This LVLIGHT poetry book is free and an offer from me to inspire you to let love and light be a greater part of your life from now on.

*With all difficulties we face through life, it's hard to focus on the light we need.
Poetry is one of the ways to find our way to light.*

The poetry in this ebook is created alongside the writing of my novel Silent Magic. A story about the ballet dancer Jeanne Baladere. She's an extraordinary creative soul, but living in a community of business tycoons working in finance, real estate and law. Despite her wonderful gift as a dancer and an artist, she always feels insecure about herself. At a party she meets an interesting couple who are immediately taken by Jeanne. The meeting of these people seems just what Jeanne needed at the time of her life when she questions everything she is.

The ballerina she became

*Being a ballerina
She was aware of the appreciation
She was aware of the applause
She was aware of the audience admiring her in all she was*

She loved showing the gracefulness dancing to the music telling stories with her body creating a new world in their fantasies

*Little did she know it wasn't hers
Not aware of her own desires Not aware of her own pain she felt with every move*

It was all in the appreciation for the applause with the audience that became part of the ballerina she became for everyone

*Questioning yourself is probably very familiar for many, but so destructible to your soul.
As for Jeanne it's too sad to know she doesn't see her own worth despite all the love and admiration she receives from her parents. It's the opinions of the world around them that make her doubt her own qualities.*

Hidden flower

*She expected to enjoy The glory of dancing
To the stars
The sun
The moon
And the ocean*

*In the end She seemed to be A delicate flower
To gentle to shine
But fierce to fly*

*Now she notices
The wings in her soul That keep telling Another calling is waiting*

*All she needs to do Is be brave
And listen
To the voice*

She's hiding

*Feelings of shame are so damaging to your own soul.
Feelings of shame because you're not like everybody else in your world. Not a lawyer, a manager, someone with an extraordinary office career like most people we know. No, you are someone who has another purpose in this world.
Not being like most people, but creating the light they need to pursue their own destiny. You are something they all need.*

yes she is hiding all that she is in her movements flowing on the melodies of this earth enjoying the stars around her only to fulfill the expectations while ignoring the voice of her true heart

The lonely self

There wasn't a way to remember her true self to go back to where she belonged

All she had was the presence of the loved ones who cherished her all those lonely years in her mind that was the only way to survive her lonely road choosing another path taking another direction felt like leaving them all

her life as it was for love*

//also as podcast

*Have faith in your own soul.
Remember to do good, to do no harm. Create what you love and what makes you smile. You know what's best for you, you know who you are. Never doubt the voice of your heart. Try to listen, every day, more and more, until this voice and light is all that you are.*

*If we become the light, the world will heal
And we will survive forever*

Accepting the appreciation Of a world not asked for A world filled with endless possibilities But separated from your true self

*Realizing the road meant to follow And strive to reach what is impossible
In the eyes of the people who are unknown For the truth buried within you*

Using your greatest mind and wisdom To follow the voice of your heart Opens doors and windows desired by many And only suitable for the pure souls

*Who do fear
But choose love Despite hate*

Find your purpose
Focus on what you love Free the voice inside of you Follow your soul

Always love yourself be your own light to conquer the world

Let's unite in this quest of love and light

we are not alone
